

THE SPIRIT OF DEMOCRACY.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1883.

Mr. and Mrs. Spoonendyke.

"My dear," said Mrs. Spoonendyke, fanning herself vigorously and looking anxiously around the room, "My dear, don't you think it is awfully warm here?"

"Open the window then," suggested Mr. Spoonendyke. "I'll open it for you on the top of the head, the wash, Give it a hard jerk, that'll loosen it."

Mrs. Spoonendyke followed instructions, split her glove, knocked the skin off her knuckle, and sat down in a high state of perturbation.

"That the best you can do?" demand Mr. Spoonendyke. "I'll open it for you on the top of the head, the wash, Give it a hard jerk, that'll loosen it."

"Won't it?" he growled. "Get some kind of a notion that this is Fourth of July and the right season of the year to manifest independence, haven't you?"

"Come up!" and his finger slipped off the lock, leaving a piece of the head behind. "Oh, ho!" he roared. "Bite, do you! Oh, you think some woman with a wax thumb is working this hoist! It ain't, I tell ye, nor it ain't any infant! This is Spoonendyke who is engineering this particular lift and ye're going through the top of the head!"

With much exhortation Mr. Spoonendyke planted his hat firmly on his head and tugged at the window until his face looked like the danger side of a switch target.

"Never mind, my dear," pleaded Mrs. Spoonendyke. "I'll open it for you on the top of the head, the wash, Give it a hard jerk, that'll loosen it."

"It ain't, eh?" howled Mr. Spoonendyke, bracing himself for another attack. "I'll open it for you on the top of the head, the wash, Give it a hard jerk, that'll loosen it."

"I'll open it for you on the top of the head, the wash, Give it a hard jerk, that'll loosen it."

WORDS TO THE THOUGHTLESS.

Don't sit or sleep in a draught.
Don't go to bed with cold feet.
Don't stand over hot air registers.
Don't lie on the left side too much.
Don't inhale hot air or fumes of any kind.
Don't lie on the back to keep from snoring.
Don't eat what you don't want, just to save it.
Don't eat in less than two hours after bathing.
Don't bathe in less than two hours after eating.
Don't sleep in a room that is not well ventilated.
Don't eat the smallest morsel unless hungry, it will.
Don't start a la's work without eating a good breakfast.
Don't eat anything but well cooked and nutritious food.
Don't take long walks when the stomach is entirely empty.
Don't sing or holler when your throat is sore or you are hoarse.
Don't wear thin hose or light-soled shoes in cold or wet weather.
Don't forget to take a good drink of pure water before breakfast.
Don't forget to cheer and gently amuse invalids when visiting them.
Don't jump out of bed immediately on a wake-up in the morning.

A man suffering from debility and loss of appetite took two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, gained ten pounds and got well.

All the hectic and fancy writing paper is going out of style, being replaced by that which is thick, plain and unadorned, with a big square envelope to match.

A very nice girl of Milwaukee Was always excessively talky. But when she was wed With man as the dead, And her husband declared she was talky. Miss Eva Bligh, of Boscehol, Wis., knocked down a lover, who asked her for a kiss while she was making bread, with the sieve she had in her hand, whereon the ungallant villain wanted to take out a warrant against her for assault. She gave him an Eva-like reply, as it were.

Old Joe contains that have little holes in the netting can be made to appear whole when they are laundered. Take a piece of lace, or very thin muslin, and when the curtain is washed stretch this piece also and put it over the spot which needs mending. It will show very little, if at all, and the starch will keep it in place.

Loss and Gain.

CHAPTER I.

"I was taken sick a year ago With bilious fever."

"My doctor pronounced me cured, but I got sick again, with terrible pains in my back and sides, and I got so bad I could not move!"

I hunk!

From 228 lbs. to 130! I had been doctoring for my liver, but it did me no good. I did not expect to live more than three months. I began to use Hop Bitters. Directly my appetite returned, my pain left me, and my system seemed renewed as if by magic, and, after using several bottles I am not only as sound as a sovereign but weigh more than I did before. To Hop Bitters I owe my life.

Dublin, June 6, '81. R. FITZPATRICK

CHAPTER II.

"Maiden, Feb. 1, 1880. Gentlemen—I suffered with attacks of sick headache. Nausea, female trouble, for years in the most terrible and excruciating manner. No medicine or doctor could give me relief or cure until I used Hop Bitters. The first bottle nearly cured me. If I had not the second bottle me as well and strong as when a child."

"And I have been so to this day."

My husband was an invalid for twenty years with a serious Kidney, liver and urinary complaint. Recommended by Boston's best physicians. "Incurable!" Seven bottles of your Bitters cured him and I know of "Lives of eight persons" in my neighborhood that have been saved by your Bitters.

"Many more are using them with great benefit."

"Try it!"

"How to Get Sick—Expose yourself day and night; eat too much without exercise; work too hard without rest; doctor all the time; take all the vile nostrums advertised; and then you will want to know how to get well, which is answered in three words—Take Hop Bitters!"

Telling it Very Short.

"I'll tell it, sir, in few words if I can, but the story would fill a book if justice was done to it."

"Surely, Michael, but put it short this time so I can squeeze it into a page of letter paper."

"Here you are, sir, then, and there are thousands of people here in Birmingham, U. S. who will testify to the truth of what I say. By name is Michael Gullifoy. I am seventy-four years old. For about nine years I was almost shut out from the world by rheumatism. I had peddled small wares in this city for years, and had to stop altogether. At the best of times I could only hobble miserably about with my cane, and was nearly unable to walk and weak, and my hands were useless to labor with. I was but the poor wreck of a once strong man. None of the medicines usually given for rheumatism did me the least good, sir. My old friends and customers forgot me, as though I were under ground."

"With the aid of my nose and the tip of my toes"

Turned up to the roots of the daisies. My days and nights were doleful and painful. I had no hope except in death. That is God's truth, and Mr. Mosher, here, knows it."

"I can't tell you how, but Parker's Tonic cured me. That was three years ago. I'm lively as a cricket now, sir, and go my business rounds every day, rain or shine. You may tell this to all the world, and refer the doctors to me."

This preparation, which has been known as Parker's Tonic since 1840. This change is made for a reason: first, because ginger is an important favoring ingredient, and secondly, because unprincipled dealers defecate their customers by substituting inferior preparations under the name of ginger. There is no change, however in the preparation itself, and all bottles run true in the hands of dealers wrapped under the name of Parker's Tonic. Parker's Tonic, contain the genuine medicine if the fac-simile signature of Parker & Co. is at the bottom of the outside wrapper.
